

Salt Creek Golf Course

document.write("");

Salt Creek Golf Course (Formerly The Auld Course) is the only Scottish links style golf course in San Diego. Located about 35 minutes southeast of downtown San Diego, it is nestled in the peaceful foothills of Mt. Miguel. This San Diego golf course was designed by John Cook and Cary Bickler who carved this fabulous layout out from a protected habitat that is bordered by acres of wetlands. There are no track homes on this course so you will really enjoy the panoramic valley and Pacific Ocean views. Salt Creek Golf Course is reasonably priced between $78 - $ 99 and is quickly becoming known as one of the "Must Play" San Diego Golf Courses.

Play Salt Creek Golf Course for as low as $90.
